

TOX FREE SCHEME OF ARRANGEMENT BECOMES EFFECTIVE

Cleanaway Waste Management Limited (“Cleanaway”) is pleased to confirm that Tox Free Solutions Limited (“Tox Free”) has today lodged orders from the Federal Court of Australia, approving the scheme of arrangement (“Scheme”) under which Cleanaway will acquire all of the ordinary shares in Tox Free, with the Australian Securities and Investments Commission.

As a result, the Scheme is now legally effective and Tox Free shares are expected to be suspended from trading on the ASX from the close of trading today.

The Scheme is expected to be implemented on Friday, 25 May 2018.

Cleanaway Chief Executive Officer and Managing Director, Vik Bansal, said: “We look forward to welcoming the Tox Free team and businesses into Cleanaway. The acquisition of Tox Free is strategically compelling and will accelerate the implementation of our Footprint 2025 strategy by adding a number of prized infrastructure assets across the country whilst enhancing our business in all areas.”

“We have undertaken significant preparatory work for the integration of Tox Free into Cleanaway, with the integration plan to be activated immediately upon completion of the Scheme.”
